

Young GK trial at Le Havre AC – identified at ANB Futbol ID Camp

August, 2017 (RELEASE) – Coming off the recent success of the annual ANB Futbol ID Camp held in June, 2017, a young GK who attended the camp as a player from Erin Mills Soccer Club, Niko Curcija (2001 born) has been offered a one week trial with the French Ligue 2 club, Le Havre AC.

Niko is a tall (6' 4") GK who impressed the Le Havre AC & French independent GK scouts during the camp. They have kept in touch with ANB Futbol Academy Director, Bassam Naim, & Niko's family to confirm the trial opportunity. Starting on 21 Aug., 2017, Niko will train with the Le Havre AC academy players and work with the GK coaches during his stay at the formation centre. Niko is joining two younger ANB Futbol players during their week trial.

“We are proud to have exposed Niko during the ANB ID Camp where many professional coaches & scouts are invited annually. Le Havre AC has a great reputation in developing young players – we look forward to positive results from Niko and the two young ANB athletes this week. With their ages, we will have to respect FIFA rules on international transfers. We believe this is the first of many steps for the players! We wish them well,” says Academy Director, Bassam Naim.

ANB Academy's vision is to become Canada's leading soccer development organization. Its mission is to identify Canadian soccer talent, and to maximize the potential of players at any level, through professional coaching and training.
